Nearly One Inch Of Rain Falls This Week

We have had a wet week, with almost an inch of moisture since Sunday. The heaviest day's rain was from 8 a.m. Tuesday to 8 a.m. Wednesday when .64 inches fell. Wednesday afternoon was clear and it looked like the storm was over, but early Thursday morning it commenced raining again, and the skies were heavily overcast all day Thursday with light rain falling steadily.

There still remains a little bit of combining, and considerable threshing to do, and the rain is not so good for this, but it is just what is needed for the beets and will make digging much easier and make the beets in better condition for processing.

The first snow of the fall came Sunday night, with a light frost, but not enough to do any damage. Housewives busied themselves Monday gathering in tomatoes, cucumbers, and other garden stuff, fearing a killing frost, but up until Thursday night, no frost had come.

Beet digging is expected to start

Red Cross Notes

Red Cross work rooms opened again last Tuesday and will be open each Tuesday from 2 to 5 p.m. The local Red Cross President informs us that there is a very great demand for Red Cross help, especially in the matter of sewing articles, and everyone who can be asked to lend a hand in getting the material on hand worked up into usable articles.

Due to the departure of Dr. and Mrs. Madill, it has become necessary also to appoint a new secretary of the Work Committee, which she has handled very efficiently ever since 1939 when the local Committee was first organized. Mrs. I. Kitchen is assuming the work of Secretary of this committee. In Mrs. Madill's leaving the local Committee loses a willing and able helper, and we have been asked by the Committee to thank her publicly, through the columns of the Recorder for her valuable assistance, and we add our own word of appreciation for the services she has given.

NO CLOTHING AVAILABLE

A New York correspondent in Holland reports that black market operations in clothing have virtually ceased in Holland. The reason given is that little, if any, clothing can be bought at any price. If it were available, clothing could be used as a form of negotiable currency. You can help to relieve such onerous conditions by giving all you can to the National Clothing Collection, October 1-20.

SCHOOLHOUSE ROLE

Green-eyed actress Barbara Kelly will play the starring role in her playwright husband's Homecoming drama this week, on the CBC-Dominion network, Monday, Sept. 24, at 9:30 p.m. CDT. Miss Kelly portrays a novel-writing school teacher who speaks her mind to the town, formerly of Vancouver, both Bernard Braden, creator of Homecoming, and Barbara Kelly, are now writing and acting in Toronto.

NEWS NOTES

Because of the furnace being under repairs and too cold to hold school without heat, the Public School students were all dismissed after the roll call on Monday morning.

Mrs. Lloyd McBride of Calgary was here over Sunday, and returned with her soldier husband to the city Sunday evening. Lloyd is entering hospital again to have his leg looked after.

A prompt shower was held Thursday night in honor of Miss Eva Palmer, who is being married September 26th to Dan Pengilly. A nice crowd was present and Eva received a lovely lot of beautiful and useful gifts from her many friends.

The North-West Line Elevators Association was organized in 1899 for the purpose of formulating rules to govern transactions between its members in the handling and shipping of grain, with the object of reducing the expenses of handling the crop of the country to a minimum. Since the organization of the association grain handling charges have been reduced to the point where they are now recognized as the lowest prevailing in any grain producing country of the world, coupled with the most efficient and expeditious plant for the handling and movement of grain to market, it was pointed out. In addition the Line Elevator Companies have developed through the association an agricultural department to assist farmers in bringing about economies in their farming operations and to assist them in meeting farming problems. The North-West Line Elevators Association is comprised of the own operators and operators of 3,110 country elevators located throughout the prairie provinces and terminal elevators at the head of the Great Lakes and on the Pacific Coast with a total storage capacity of 274,000,000 bushels.

Miss Hilda Beat Heard Monday Night

The Raymond Rotary Club met in before the war, today her foreign an evening meeting at the Sugar Bowl Monday evening, to enjoy an hour listening to Miss Hilda Beat, and then Miss Beat spoke briefly of York, England, who was in the world that night for a speaking engagement. A very fine lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed by the members of the club. There was a full attendance of 100 persons, and at 8:20 p.m. the meeting adjourned to the First Ward Church where a public meeting was held. About 60 people gathered and a speaker was introduced by T. Geo. Wood, whose native land is England and he felt sure that Miss Beat would have a message of great importance and interest.

Miss Beat commenced by taking her audience on an imaginary airplane trip to England and having them spend a day there. Britishers had suffered much more in rationing than the average person in America realized. New clothing was unobtainable, and old goods had been mended and patched until their original pattern and color were hardly known. So clothing coupons each six months was the limit per person, and many pieces of clothing required more than an entire six months to obtain. Food was also very scarce and at one time their ration was reduced to 30 p.c. meat, the other 70 p.c. being filler material. Food had been hard to obtain, but perhaps the most oppressive thing of the war was the continual blackout.

The speaker had been through the blitz in London, also the rocket and buzz bombing and said that all British cities were marked now by shattered business places and homes where the bombs had hit, and that a great problem faced the Government in a rebuilding program. Speaking of economies, she said that whereas England was a great export nation and a lending nation

Our experience in Europe has shown that liberation is not enough. Freedom from enemy oppression and aggression does not automatically cover one's nakedness. That condition afflicts countless innocent war victims who are in dire need of your contributions to the National Clothing Collection, October 1-20.

Speakers at the 2nd War Sacrament meeting Sunday evening were Miss Vivienne Stovell, who is leaving soon for a long term mission in California, Miss Afton Christensen and Elder Moss Moom of the State Missionary group. Miss Jeannette Wille sang a vocal solo to add to the enjoyable and instructive program.

Master Sergeant Lorrain Smith of the U. S. Air Marine Corps arrived home Monday for a twenty day leave. The first of the week, and present plans call for slicing to commence on Sept. 27th. However, if the storm continues, it may necessitate a change in these plans.

Lord Haw Haw, the Englishman who broadcast for the Nazis during the early years of the war, has been convicted on a charge of treason and sentenced to be hanged.

A large James storage and moving van left here Wednesday for Vancouver, B. C. with the furniture and household effects of Dr. and Mrs. Madill. The family will be leaving next week.

A Stake Bee-Hive Institute was held in the Opera House Wednesday evening when representatives from all wards in the Stake were present to take part.

The value of food supplied by Canada to the British Ministry of Food under wartime contracts rose from $62,000,000 in 1940 to $277,000,000 in 1944—an increase of over 300 p.c.

A substantial part of Canada's contribution to the Pacific War was in the form of Mutual Aid supplies sent to Australia and New Zealand, Mutual Aid to Australia in 1943-44 amounted to $20,959,845. This was more than doubled in 1944-45.

We have it unofficially that Dr. and Mrs. Madill and family will be leaving soon to make their home in Vancouver, B. C. where it is hoped the lower altitude will help the Dr. physical condition. Raymond is sincerely sorry to lose the valuable services of Dr. Madill, but if the change improves his condition we can only say best of luck and good health in the move.

T.B. IS ALWAYS PRESENT

With the summer's worst heat wave just past, it may seem a little early to think of Christmas, but a news item from the Alberta Tuberculosis Association reminds us that tuberculosis is being fought not only at Christmas Seal time, but all the year round.

Enough Christmas Seals to cover two acres—29 million—have arrived in Alberta for distribution to nine local Seal committees. Preparations are already under way for the campaign to raise funds for the 1946 anti-tuberculosis work of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, sponsored by Rotary Clubs in Cardston, High River and Red Deer, and Kinross Clubs in Banff, Calgary, Drumheller, Edmonton, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat.

In 1927, when the first Christmas Seal sale was held in Canada, Alberta's death rate from T.B. was 55 per 100,000. Last year the rate was 35.7 per 100,000. It would be incorrect to give Christmas Seals all the credit for this remarkable reduction, but every person who has bought any of these colorful little stickers at Yule time can feel justifiably proud of his contribution towards the ceaseless war against what Sir William Osler called "The scourge of mankind."

The Raymond Lions Club held a ladies night in the 2nd Ward Hall on Monday September 17.

Pres Karl Wilde was in the Chair and after "Oh Canada" was sung prayer was offered by Lion Wm. Wilde.

55 people sat down to a delicious meal after singing the Lions song "Don't you hear those Lions roar." Lion M. T. King, Chairman of the program entertained the members and friends with a few Anecdotes after which Mrs. Emma Dahl and Mrs. Jimmy Anderson played a Piano Duett. This called for a second number. Jeannine Wildo then sang "When you wish upon a Star" and "God Bless America" accompanied at the Piano by Mrs. Emma Dahl.

Community singing was then enjoyed by all after which the floor was cleared and the balance of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of Nolan's Canadians.

Parents of the bride and friends of the groom witnessed the ceremony and extended best wishes for a long life and happiness together following the ceremony. The young couple are now on a brief honeymoon.

Their future plans are a little indefinite as the groom is driving an oil truck for S. B. Card at the present time. We join with their many friends in extending best wishes for success and happiness of this young couple.

A HELPFUL INVENTORY

This is a good time for every Canadian to take inventory of his attic, basement, and clothes closet. What can you spare that some war-ravaged people can wear? Clean out your clothes closet. Rummage around your attic. And how about that old trunk in the basement? You need the space, they need your spare clothing. Give it now to the National Clothing Collection, October 1-20.

MEAT RATIONING

In the midst of the furor across Canada over meat rationing, one wonders just what it is the bottom of it. In our opinion, the people of Canada, and especially Western Canada, are willing and anxious to share what we have with the peoples of the United Kingdom and Europe. The response to Victory Loans, Red Cross drives, blood clinics, and the volunteers in the armed forces all are evidence that Canada wants her share in Victory and is willing to pay for it.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that there is really no need for rationing. There is more beef than a good market exists for, we are in the middle of a great beef raising country and the man who raises beef likes to be able to kill one when he wants and eat it when he wants, without having to account to outside parties for every hog at horn. Whether this is his God-given right or not we are not arguing, but this is what western stock raisers want. However, all these things aside, the main protest against rationing is the inconvenience and extra work pushed onto the retail butcher if he endeavors to comply with all the rulings. The taken business is particularly distasteful. It was bad enough when only coupons had to be turned in, but with tokens to keep track of, a weekly report of meat on hand and meat sold to be made, and the coupons all to be accounted for by the butcher feels like it's just too big a headache. Then too, the coupon values seem to be causing a rush on some meats, and an absolute shunning of other products because buyers feel that their coupon value is too high. Has someone slipped somewhere in the arm chair planning?

After all, the purported aim back of rationing is more meat for the outmoded, forgotten clothing, shoes U.K. and Europe. If the government can get all it wants and all that these nations can buy, then why ration? If rationing is essential, would it not be better to make it as simple as possible, with as little extra work for the retailer and the purchaser as can be arranged? Canada wants to do her share and every Canadian wants to be helping their friends in Europe, but Western Canada feels like the present outlined system is too complicated to accomplish the desired end.

SERVICE SANS SACRIFICE

The National Clothing Collection, announced from the period from October 1-20 marks a departure from the old familiar wartime appeals.

Thus far, in the grim business of checking the aggressor nations; of driving them from stolen soil, and pressing on to their unconditional surrender, real sacrifice has been there order both abroad and at home.

With the sacrifices made by our fighting men, we all are poignantly familiar. Each week the casualty lists had revealed a mounting monument to their courage, their gallantry, their readiness to give all.

Our sacrifices at home have not been of this supreme and priceless category. Yet, sacrifices we have made and are making — the sacrifice of our dollars, of many of our living comforts, of most of our peace-time pleasures, of our time, our thoughts, our energies and of many other things, as we had made our army, navy and air force among the best equipped in the world, as we worked for and contributed to the Red Cross, national war funds, and other organizations committed to their welfare.

But, in October, we can help mightily toward achieving the full fruits of victory without yielding up a single item used by or useful to us.

We can — we should — do this by giving to the National Clothing Collection our unneeded, outgrown, and blankets.

How can our no-longer used but still serviceable, apparel accomplish this?

By helping clothe the millions of destitute men, women and children in the war-devastated lands of Europe, Asia and the Pacific on whom we must count to build and maintain the peace that is to come.

In Europe alone, 33,000,000 are "statistically naked" and three times that number, additional are in dire need of serviceable clothes of any mode to cover and comfort their war-emaciated bodies. Many have died, many now are sick and dying, for the want of your discarded suit, dress, coat or shoes.

The October campaign of the National Clothing Collection provides you an opportunity to perform a life saving, peace-assuring service without the slightest sacrifice.

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?

August, 1945, saw Canada pass the 5,000,000 ton mark in wartime shipping building with more than 1,100 naval and merchant vessels launched. This is 10 times the production of the First World War.

- If possible, submit a letter from a parent or former farm employer and a letter from municipal or other official in home locality, indicating need for services.

Agricultural Labour Survey Committees have been set up by the Federal Department of Labour, to co-operate with the Armed Services in the release of men for farm work.

The Canadian Pacific Fleet is proud of its record of 2,760,000 sea miles in Admiralty service carrying troops and supplies through enemy-infested waters.

With 42,346 miles of tracks, Canadian railways were the chief carriers of raw materials to war factories and finished products to combat points. From 1939 to 1944, the points. From 1939 to 1944, freight shipped by rail in vessel 83 per.

The number of Canadian seamen manning Canada's foreign going merchant ships rose from 1,460 to 8,350 during the war. War took its toll of them, as indicated by the following casualty figures: 1,054 dead or missing and 189 taken prisoner up at March 31, 1945.

HAVE WE TOO MANY BEEF CATTLE.

Concern has been expressed in some quarters over liquidation of beef cattle holdings this fall and winter. The fear has been expressed that such liquidation will reduce the potential meat supplies a year or two from now. To the writer of this letter these fears appear needless. In fact, in most respects considerable liquidation seems to be the soundest action that can be taken.

Fundamentally Canada is overstocked with beef cattle at the present time and the same is true of the United States. We have a cattle population greater than ever before and in many areas this population is beyond the carrying capacity of the feed resources. This has become apparent in many parts of western Canada, especially this year when drought has been of widespread occurrence. In the west we simply do not have sufficient feed reserves to carry our present cattle load and that will be even more true in 1946 turns out to be a dry year.

The second factor is that on the basis of markets available previous to the war our cattle stocks will be hard to move after the present wartime demand subsides. As the European production gradually returns to normal we may expect a reduced demand for our meat stocks. This demand is at an all time high at present. None but the wildest thinker believes that there will be no change in this situation.

There never has been a more favorable situation for liquidation of beef cattle stocks. Our hog production has been reduced drastically. The world is crying for meat at prices that are generally acceptable to producers. There is no apparent limit to the amount of meat that can be disposed of once it can be put into consumer form. The limiting factor is the physical capacity of our processing plants.

In the face of this situation which is more logical than to reduce our holdings to a mere normal level during the next year with emphasis on culling the inferior stock.

There never was a more favorable time for such action. This does not imply an unrestrained flooding of the market. It requires a careful analysis by each individual producer of his present holdings, his ability to provide a continuous, adequate supply of feed for his stock, and a survey of the quality of that stock. Meat is in so strong demand that even the lower grades are readily accepted. This provides an opportunity that may never come again to reduce herd numbers to the capacity of our feed resources and at the same time to build up the average quality of our herds to a level higher than they have been before. Quality will become important again when competition for markets once more becomes a reality.

During the war Canada has been the leading exporter of base of Picture Butte spent the week-end metals. Of the combined output of here with Mrs. Gibb's parents, Mr. the United Nations, Canada contributed and Mrs. Wm. Davis

Acting for the first time as an independent unit, Canadian businessmen were represented at the meeting of the Council of the International Chamber of Commerce in London, England, on August 16-17. Canadians are lucky. So far we've prevented inflation and avoided deflation.

It's not been just good luck.

Your support—everybody's support—of price ceilings, rationing and other controls alone has made it possible.

BUT NOW COMES THE REAL TESTING TIME.

The danger of inflation and its black shadow, deflation, will last as long as goods are scarce and insufficient to meet demands.

With the war over and plenty of money in our pockets it's easy to overlook the danger.

It's easy to think that paying just a little more to get something we want is unimportant now.

It's easy to think that what you do can't hurt—and to forget that careless, extravagant buying is a sure way to help a general rise in prices.

That's how inflation gets going.

BUT INFLATION IS ALWAYS FOLLOWED BY DEFLATION.

And deflation brings cancelled orders, bankrupt businesses, mortgage foreclosures, unemployment and distress—distress you can't avoid.

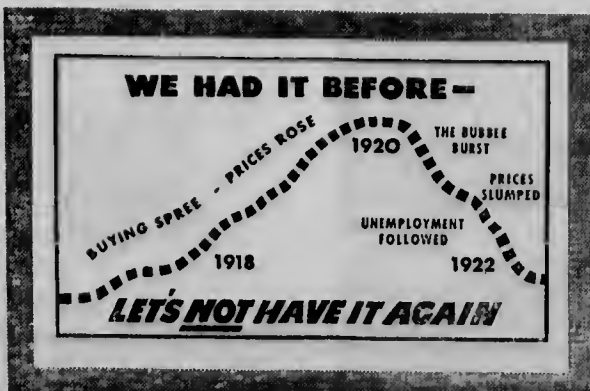

Until industry gets back to normal, price ceilings, rationing and other controls are our safeguard.

SO— Keep on watching your buying. Don't rush to buy scarce goods.

Keep on saving your money. Put it into Victory bonds and War Savings certificates.

Keep on supporting wage and price controls, and rationing. Keep on fighting inflation and its black shadow... deflation.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing a further increase in the cost of living now and deflation and unemployment later.

your farm

FOR many a farmer the farm is boss... it runs him, instead of him running it.

Too many farmers underestimate the worth of their time; too few know what they are being paid for their work.

Maybe we can help you here,
for our manager will gladly supply you with a simple farm account book which will show you exactly what your farm is paying you from year to year—whether you are going forward or backward. Call or write for your copy. It is yours for the asking.

Your B of M manager is ready to help you if you need money for the improvement of your farm, barn repairs, fixing fencing or drainage, road building, buying new breeding stock, implements or equipment. If you want to speed up ploughing, cultivating, seeding and harvesting, he is the man to see. You will find him friendly, a good listener, and very much interested in your plans and problems. Give him your full confidence. It will pay you.
